The new meta for razorback farming and necramech weapon

It's an very high range beam archgun that can nuke Archwing sp even without a potato (at least in corpus missions)

In atmosphere, you might be relying more on heat proc kills which is good for any beam weapon... Problem is that it aint good against corpus nullifier bubbles unless there's an enemy on the side of the bubble because the lankspur will always try to target the nullifier corpus instead of making it's way through

Very powerful for farming razorback armada and not even that hard to level up
Works on grofit taker but the beam range makes it too risky
